FORUM TRAINING
Professional Development

Forum Business Media Ltd is a publisher and professional training company, based in London. Our magazines and other information publications (both print and digital), together with our range of conferences, seminars and digital professional training, are widely used by schools, care homes, HR professionals, charities, Early Years settings and dentists, among others.

Forum Training curates and delivers expert professional training to education, dental, GP, social care, HR, counselling and charity sectors. We bring delegates together to network with like minded people and exhibitors who meet their business needs. Exhibitors at our events demonstrate their excellence to our decision-making delegates who require products and services, gaining invaluable business leads.

"Brilliant speakers and topics. This has improved my knowledge on how to improve patient care at my practice – I will get my colleagues to attend future CQC events" –
Clinical Lead, Broad Street Medical Practice

"Will Definitely attend again and will recommend it" –
Practice manager, Knightsbridge Dental Care

"Perfectly organised" –
Head of People, Allied Care

"Time out of a busy school environment to think, plan, develop, reflect and network" –
School Business Manager, Oakley School
